The Daily Gazetteer. Numb. 3006

Monday October 17. 1743.

Since our last arriv'd the Mails from France and Holland.

Petersburgh, September 30.

HER Imperial Majesty's Journey to Moscow will, undoubtedly, take Place either in the latter End of November, or the Beginning of December at farthest. All the Foreign Ministers propose to follow the Court. Count Lacy returned from Sweden a few Days ago with the Troops which were on board the Gallies; he met with a most gracious Reception from the Czarina, and was exceedingly Welcome to every Body. A compleat Detail of the late Conspiracy is published, wherein all the Intrigues of the Marquis de Botta are laid open, the Methods he took to sound Peoples Inclinations are explained, his Insinuations of Succours from abroad set in a clear Light, as also his Contrivance to get himself recalled at the very Juncture when he conceived his Scheme ripe; and the Precautions he used, if his first Project failed, to bring another to bear. Her Majesty has caused this Piece to be printed in Dutch and French, in order to convince all Europe of the Justice of her Demand, that the Marquis should be punish'd as he deserves. The Nephew of General Keith sets out To-morrow to carry his Excellency a very fine Silver Cistern, of which the Empress makes him a Present.

Vienna, October 9. The Marriage of the Arch-Dutchess Mary-Anne with Prince Charles is settled, and will take Place on the 15th of January next. All the necessary Steps for recruiting the Army are already taken; and Bodies of Croats and Sclavonians are daily marching to relieve those who, according to their Capitulations, are returning Home. We propose, in the Spring, to have 12,000 here and in Austria, 20,000 in Bohemia, 18,000 in Bavaria, 70,000 on the Rhine, and 36,000 in Italy, compleat.

Dresden, October 13. The Court has directed several fine Services of China to be fineired in a very short Time, in order to their being sent as Presents to Foreign Princes. There are frequent Conferences among our Ministers, but nothing transpires. We hear of late a Report, as if a neutral Imperial Army was to assemble in Franconia, which, some say, will consist of 120,000 Men. The Design of it (as is pretended) is to give Weight to the Decrees of the Dyet, which will soon after proceed to settle Tranquillity to Germany. What Part our Court will take is uncertain; but the 18,000 Men we have upon the Frontiers of Bohemia, have Orders to hold themselves ready to March at an Hour's Warning.

Hamburgh, October 12. The Duke Administrator of Holstein, the appointed Successor to the Crown of Sweden, landed on the 6th Instant at Carlscrona, under the Convoy of Admiral Taube, after having been out at Sea in very tempestuous Weather. This News has been expected, with great Impatience, by the Ducal Family. Prince Augustus has now fix'd upon the 15th Instant for his Return to Kiel, whither he will be accompanied by the Chamberlain Corff, who from thence will continue his Journey to Stockholm, by the Route of Copenhagen: And in a Day or two Prince William of Saxe-Gotha, with his Princess, intend to leave Hamburgh, for Graven Hoonne, the Place of their Residence. The Loan which the Town of Altona pays to the King of Denmark, in Compensation of their Exemption from the late Levies, furnished, without Interest, for the Term of Three Years; at the Expiration of which, if the Capital is not then reimbursed, his Danish Majesty consents to pay Five per Cent. for it.

From the Camp at the Chartreux near Mentz, dated October 18, N. S.

The Army halted two Days at Worms, and on Wednesday the 16th marched again, and arrived here the next Day. The Bridge by which we are to pass the River, will be finished To-morrow, and on the 20th we shall pass that River; and after staying one Day in our former Camp on the other Side, it is expected that we shall march for our Winter-Quarters in Flanders. The King passed the Rhine at Oppenheim the 16th, there being not the least Appearance of the French following us; according to certain Accounts brought by our Hussars, and designed to lie that Night either at Giesen or Marpurg, and to proceed on his Journey the 17th to-wards Hanover, where his Majesty proposed to arrive this Day. His Royal Highness the Duke left us Yesterday, and will be this Evening at Cassel. Lord Carteret set out for Hanover the same Day with his Majesty, having crossed the Rhine at Gernsheim, and was to lie that Night at Darmstadt.

Extract from the Paris Alamain.

Paris, October 23. 'On the 12th, about Three in 'the Morning, the Army of the Allies began its March, 'in order to take Winter-Quarters. The 13th they en-'camped at Frankendal, Yesterday at Worms, where 'they will remain two Days, and will then continue 'their Route by Oppenheim, in order to pass the Rhine 'at Bibrich, below Mentz. The English and Dutch are 'to march into the Low-Countries, the Hessians into 'Hesse, the Hanoverians to Hanover, and the Austrians 'into the Duchy of Luxemburgh.

'The Day of their Departure they caused the Boats, 'which composed their Bridge over the Rhine, to fall 'down that River, laden with Corn and Forage.

'Prince Charles decamped from Brisac the 13th, with 'his Infantry, after sending his heavy Artillery to Fri-'bourg. He is taking the Route by Heidelbergh into 'Bavaria, the Circles of Suabia and Franconia having re-'fused him Quarters. Before his Departure he caused 'all his new-rais'd Works about Old Brisac, to be razed 'and filled up.

'We have actually begun to fortify the Citadel of Dun-'kirk, the Works we proposed to raise for the Security 'of the Place being actually finished.

Behold a bright Example of French Faith!

'We have Intelligence, that on the 12th a consider-'able Body of Hussars were defeated, by a Detachment 'sent by the Count de Saxe to surprize them the Night 'before.

'Both our Armies will go, towards the End of the 'Month, into Winter-Quarters. The Houshold Troops 'will march back hither directly. Our Cavalry will be-'gin to canton, and our Infantry, that remain on the 'Rhine, will barrack all the Winter.

'Two Armies will be immediately formed, one on 'the Mosselle, and the other in Flanders.

'On the 17th the Court received an Express, with 'Advice from the Army of the Infant Don Philip, that 'the Court of Spain had sent his Royal Highness an Or-'der, to attempt nothing farther this Campaign, because 'the Season was too far advanced, the Difficulty of the 'Enterprize too great, and the Expence of sending Pro-'visions, thro' France, too heavy to be endured.

'By the same Courier we learn, that the Spaniards 'suffered greatly in their Retreat, and that the Infant had '4 or 500 French and Spaniards kill'd and wounded. 'The Lieutenant-Colonel of the Regiment of Anjou is 'kill'd, the Colonel, M. de Fedoas, has his Arm broke, 'and M. de Brancas wounded.

'We are now thoroughly satisfied, that the Court of 'Savoy only amused the Spaniards with Hopes of grant-'ing them a Passage, in order to gain Time to fortify 'the Passes, and strengthen their Party.

'His Majesty's Return to Versailles is put off till the '27th of next Month.

'The King has given the Princes of the Blood Leave 'to return, when they think fit.

IRELAND.

His Grace William Duke of Devonshire, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland, his Speech to both Houses of Parliament at Dublin, on Tuesday the Fourth Day of October, 1743.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

My long Experience of your firm Attachment to his Majesty's Person and Government, of your steady Zeal and Unanimity in seconding his Royal Care for the Prosperity of this Kingdom, and of your obliging Regard, on all Occasions, to the Ease of my Administration, greatly heightened the Pleasure with which I received his Majesty's Commands, to meet you again in Parliament.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Officers to lay before you the Accounts and Estimates.

The Part which his Majesty hath so greatly taken, for the Preservation of the Liberties of Europe, hath occasioned some Alterations in his Armies; but as they are far from increasing the Expence of this Kingdom, I have nothing new in Command from his Majesty to ask; and I assure myself, from your former Conduct, that you will, with the greatest Chearfulness, provide for the National Debt, and continue to support the King's Government with Honour.

The Arms for the Use of the Militia being all provided, the Account of the Money disbursed for that Service shall be laid before you.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The contagious Distemper which rages so violently in several Countries abroad, calls upon you to take into your Consideration, what Provisions may be most effectual to secure this Kingdom from Infection; or if any Part of it shall be so unhappy as to be visited by that dreadful Calamity, to stop its further Progress.

It will naturally fall under your Observation, that any further Methods which shall be thought proper to prevent the iniquitous Practice of the clandestine Running of Goods, must, at the same Time, greatly tend to the Preservation of the Lives and Health of his Majesty's Subjects.

Your Attention to the further extending and improveing of the Flaxen and Hempen Manufactures, and every other Measure which may conduce to the Trade, Security and Welfare of this Kingdom, will be the most agreeable Instance of your Duty and Affection to his Majesty, who is the common Father of all his People.

You may be assured, That I shall, with the highest Satisfaction, concur with you in every Thing that may promote the Publick Good; and, upon all Occasions, contribute my best Endeavours for advancing the Happiness and Prosperity of the People of Ireland.

LONDON.

According to the last Advices from Constantinople, all the Precautions used by the Grand Vizir, to parry his Deposition, proved abortive; for the People perceiving, that, notwithstanding the extreme Danger of the Empire, and that Shah Nadir was actually advanced as far as Bagdat, he still delayed his Departure, rose every-where, and demanded the Removal of the Vizir. The Grand Signior being informed of this, and suspecting the Fidelity of the Janizaries, immediately complied with the Demands of the Populace, and created the Aga of the Janizaries Grand Vizir.

They write from Madrid, That they are daily in greater and greater Apprehensions on account of the Plague, which undoubtedly makes vast Ravages at Ceuta, where no less than 70 Persons died in a Week. All imaginable Precautions were used, to prevent its crossing to the opposite Coasts of Spain; and, it was even talk'd as if the Court would, upon this Account, recal all its Privateers.

By the late Treaty between the Queen of Hungary and the King of Sardinia, the former yields to the latter all that Part of the Milanese on this Side the Ticino, as also the Plaisantin, as far as Nurra, together with the Right of redeeming Final from the Genoese. His Sardinian Majesty, on the other hand, disclaims all further Pretensions, and guaranties the Pragmatick Sanction.

Letters from Deuxponts, of October 10. N. S. say, that Col. Mentzell, who is there at present, not having been so still and quiet as his Surgeons directed, they had been obliged to set his Leg no less than five Times, and that it was now in so very desperate a Way, that they thought of cutting it off, in order to save his Life; which has thrown his Hussars into the utmost Consternation.

Private Advices from Paris mention the Retreat of Don Philip's Army out of Piedmont, as an absolute Defeat; and say likewise, that the King of Sardinia's Forces had penetrated into several Parts of Savoy, and burn'd the Magazines laid up for the Use of the Army; so that it was believed, both the French and Spaniards would take Winter-Quarters in Provence and Dauphine.

His Grace the Duke of Somerset has presented the Rev. Mr. Wiggan, one of his Grace's Chaplains, to the Rectory of Petworth in Sussex, void by the Death of Dr. Langworth.

The only short and infallible Cure for that reigning Disease the SCURVY, and all Scorbutick Humours, tho' arrived to the highest and most inveterate Degree, and of ever so many Years standing, and that without any sensible Evacuation or the least Purging, which by an unaccountable Infatuation is generally advised, although always found rather to increase and confirm the Scurvy than cure it.

By the so much famed and most pleasant Chymical DROPS:

WHICH, without the least Trouble, Confinement, or any Disorder whatever, do at once find out the true Cause of the Scurvy, and intirely destroy it, and all Scorbutick Humours and Effects, Root and Branch, so as never to return again, as many Thousands of both Sexes have experienced, and as all who take them, in 3 Days time will be convinced, for they almost instantly alter the morbid State of the Juices, purify the Blood, sweeten all the Fluids, cleanse them from Impurities, and directly clear the whole Habit from all Spots, Blotches, black and blue Marks, Itchings, foul Eruptions, or Breakings out, Weakness of the Limbs, languid Heaviness of the whole Body, wandring Pains, Weakness of the Back, and all the vast Variety of Symptoms by which the Scurvy imitates and often lies concealed under the Appearance of the Rheumatism, and many other Diseases.

And for strengthening the Stomach, immediately creating a good Appetite, causing a regular and easy Digestion of Food, and curing all windy Effects and Disorders of the first Passages (whence proceed Head-achs, Vapours and other Indispositions) no Bitters nor other Medicine upon Earth can compare with them, besides their infallibly curing the Scurvy in all its Shapes and Appearances, they also assuredly and immediately cure the Green-Sickness in Virgins, Worms of all Kinds in young or old, and clear the other Chronick Diseases, (which are chiefly occasioned by Indigestion and flatulent Crudities in the Stomach and Bowels) and effectually prevent Fevers, Agues, and other acute Illnesses.

They are wonderfully Cordial and Restorative, strengthen and enliven the whole Machine, and assoon as taken, make the Pulse pleasantly Lightsom, Brisk and Vigorous to admiration, and are good for all Sorts of Persons, to preserve as well as to restore found and healthy State of Body.

But the great Reputation these so much fam'd and peculiar Chymical Drops have so universally gain'd among Persons of Fashion for their suddenly and infallibly curing the Scurvy and all Scorbutick Humours, and other Chronick Diseases, in such an easy and agreeable Manner, have occasioned many to imitate them, some under the same, and others under other Names: Be careful therefore not to be deceiv'd; but be sure to have the Right, which is the Author's special Appointment, are to be had only at the Gentlewoman's, at the Two Blue Posts, in Haydon-Yard, in the Minories. at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.
